

Road trip presentation

Being on the road, traveling, was integral to Jeremy's life. The year after our first time in Timbisha (Death Valley National Park), we traveled to British Columbia, to a retreat center called Hollyhock - we saw our first whales -, and the next year we drove cross country to celebrate Mariann's husband Harri's life in New York. Jeremy's first flight was when we went to Mike's college reunion in Oberlin Ohio when he was just a year old. Many flights back east over the years, West Virginia and New York and Tennessee and Washington DC. Many California trips, summer camp in the Sierras from 1990-1994, friends, family, and Grateful Dead concerts in the San Francisco Bay Area, annual trips to Evergreen and back for summer break through Oregon and Washington, and all of California's state and national parks - Yosemite, Sequoia, Kings Canyon, Joshua Tree, Mojave Desert, Red Rocks, Anza Borrego, and many new places on this most recent trip. We also went on a Colorado-Utah trip, a New Mexico-Utah trip, a CA coast trip, and a CA desert trip. And in 2017, just before beginning at Pacifica, we took an international trip to Israel (guests of his grandmother), Austria (Marcia was born in Salzburg), Czech Republic (Kafka was from Prague), and Hungary (the Sarka family were Hungarian). On his own, Jeremy made many trips to Los Angeles from Olympia, trips in Washington, filming trips to the western states and most recently camping art trips to rekindle his creativity. I can't even imagine the trip he is on now, a stardust trip to the infinite.
